- 275 g self-raising flour
- Zest and juice of 2 lemons
- 85 g granulated sugar, for the drizzle

METHOD

1. Heat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan) and line a loaf tin.
2. Beat the butter and caster sugar until pale, then add the eggs one at a time.
3. Fold in the flour and lemon zest. Spoon into the tin and level the top.

5. Mix the lemon juice with the granulated sugar and spoon it over the warm cake.

NOTES

Leave it in the tin until completely cool so the drizzle sets with a crunch.

Chapter One

The keeper of Gull Point

At dusk the light came on above the harbour, the way it had every night for ninety years. Mara watched it from the kitchen window with a mug going cold in her hands.

Her grandfather had kept the lamp until the day it was automated. After that he kept the logbook anyway, writing down the weather and the boats that passed, as if someone might one day ask.

Nobody ever did. But when the box of logbooks arrived at her door with a note in his careful handwriting, she sat down on the floor of the hallway and began to read.
